Numb. 7381.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday March 1. to Tuesday March 4. 1734.

Warsaw, February 19, N. S.

WE have Accounts from Czentockow that M. Tarlo Palatin of Lublin, and the Staroſta Jacelski, with the Confederates for King Staniſlaus, march'd the 14th Inſtant from thence in three Columns for Great Poland, and it is ſuppoſed will proceed to Poliſh Pruſſia, Major General Steinflicht commanding the Vanguard. We hear that the ſaid Confederates have ſent the Caſtellan of Czerk's Son to Konigsberg, to deſire moſt inſtantly of King Staniſlaus to acquaint them what Support they are to expect, and that in Caſe they cannot be aſſured of ſpeedy Succours, he would permit their making Terms for themſelves with this Court, it being impoſſible for them alone to maintain his Cauſe any longer, the Force againſt them being too powerful. Some Days ago Major General Lowendahl ſent hither the Articles of the Armiſtice that has been agreed upon between the Ruſſians and Saxons with the Palatin of Kiovy. We are even told, that every thing is as good as finiſhed between the ſaid Palatin and this Court, and that he has already ordered Te Deum to be Sung at Kaminieck for King Auguſtus, and cauſed his Troops to take an Oath of Fidelity to him. He, with the Grand Marſhal Mnizcheck, the Caſtellan of Cracovy, the Palatin of Podolia, the Crown Maſter of the Viedlopolski, M. Braniski, and ſeveral other Perſons of Diſtinction, are expected here ſoon. Colonel Sibilski is juſt returned with his Body of Light-Horſe, and has brought with him ſeveral Priſoners, two or three Pair of Kettle-Drums, Colours, and a conſiderable Booty. It is reported, that four Companies of Foot belonging to the Palatin of Lublin's Diviſion, have been ſurpriſed by the Saxons, and forty of them killed.

Warſaw, Feb. 24, N. S. Since the 19th Inſtant we have had very little News of the March of the Palatin of Lublin with the Confederates: A Perſon that arrived here Yeſterday reports, that near Kaliſh he left a ſmall Detachment of Saxon Horſe, with Lieutenant General Birckholts at the Head of them, (who were convoying 40,000 Ducats, ſent from Dreſden,) engaged with 4 or 5000 Poles.

Berlin, March 5, N. S. The Duke of Bevern having received on Tueſday laſt an Expreſs from Wolfenbuttel, with an Account that the Duke of that Name lay dangerouſly ill, he, his Dutcheſs, and the Hereditary Prince his Son, left this Place early the next Morning; and we have ſince heard that the Duke of Wolfenbuttel is dead. Yeſterday in the Evening the King of Pruſſia had an Expreſs from the Frontiers, which brought him the News, that a Detachment of the Troops under Count Tarlo, commanded by General Steinflicht, had attacked and defeated a Saxon Convoy conducted by Major General Birckholts, with about 600 Dragoons. Theſe Letters add, that General Birckholts was very much wounded and taken Priſoner, and that moſt of his Detachment were cut to Pieces. That the Saxons had alſo loſt ſeveral Thouſand Ducats, deſigned for the Payment of their Troops; three or four Hundred Pair of Boots, and a good Quantity of Stores and Ammunition. The Letters from Warſaw of the 24th of February, N. S. which are juſt come in, confirm theſe Advices.

Whitehall, Feb. 26, 1734-5.

Whereas Rainhall, a Houſe belonging to the Right Honourable the Earl of Eſſex, in the County of Eſſex, was lately beſet in the Night-time by ſeveral ill-deſigning Perſons, who ſeized a Servant of Daniel Clapton, his Lordſhip's Steward, and beat and bruiſed him in a barbarous Manner, declaring that their Intention was to have killed him, and the ſaid Daniel Clapton